Thailand-Japan Student ICT Fair 2026 (TJ-SIF 2026)

21-23 December 2026

Princess Chulabhorn Science High School Buriram
(PCSHS Buriram)

Preface

Thailand-Japan Student ICT Fair 2026 (TJ-SIF 2026) held at Princess Chulabhorn Science High School Buriram serves as a platform for Thai and Japanese high school or college students, ICT teachers, and school executives to convene. This marks the 5th iteration of the TJ-SIF, providing an opportunity for Thai and Japanese students to showcase their project ideas through slide and poster presentations.

Furthermore, attendees engage in a diverse array of meticulously planned activities aimed at enhancing their knowledge and refining their scientific skills. The event plays a crucial role in expanding their educational horizons and nurturing their scientific curiosity. Most importantly, over the course of three days, Thai and Japanese students come together, fostering long-lasting friendships that transcend borders and generations.

TJ-SIF 2026

Background Information of TJ-SIF 2026

The remarkable success of TJ-SSF 2015, TJ-SIF 2016, TJ-SSF 2018, TJSIF 2019, TJ-SSF 2020, TJ-SIF 2022, TJ-SSF 2023, TJ-SIF 2024 and TJ-SSF 2025 have marked significant advancements in science and technology education in both Thailand and Japan. These events have not only facilitated the exchange of knowledge but have also fostered creativity, scientific awareness, and technological innovation among young Thai and Japanese individuals.

The Thailand-Japan Student ICT Fair 2026 (TJ-SIF 2026), scheduled for 21-23 December 2026, at Princess Chulabhorn Science High School Buriram, is a collaborative effort organized by all Princess Chulabhorn Science High Schools. The objectives of this event are multifaceted:

1. To enhance the scientific acumen and competencies of the participants
2. To cultivate strong interpersonal and communication skills among the participants
3. To broaden the participants' global perspectives and outlook
4. To facilitate the establishment of enduring friendships between Thai and Japanese participants, fostering cooperative learning, joint projects, and future collaborations
5. To reinforce academic partnerships between Princess Chulabhorn Science High Schools and their Japanese counterparts, including Super Science High Schools (SSHs) and the National Institutes of Technology (KOSEN)

Through these objectives, TJ-SIF 2026 aims to not only promote academic excellence but also to foster cross-cultural understanding and collaboration in the field of science and technology between Thailand and Japan.

(It is recommended that you scan your official documents and send them to your own email. This will be helpful in case you lose your passport or insurance.)

2. Clothes

2.1 Two sets of school uniforms

2.2 A school T-shirt (if any) and long pants or jeans (semi-formal outfit) for the scientific study tour

2.3 Pajamas

2.4 School shoes and sneakers

3. Personal toiletries

4. An umbrella or a raincoat

5. Mosquito repellent

6. Personal medication (in original containers and package insert)

7. Personal laptop for ICT Workshop. Please install Blender 3D on your laptop

Make sure to pack these items to ensure a comfortable and prepared stay. Safe travels!

First Aid

Princess Chulabhorn Science High School Buriram is located in a natural environment where students may occasionally encounter insects and venomous animals. To ensure their safety, this section of the handbook provides essential information on identifying common insects and venomous species, understanding the potential risks they pose, and taking appropriate precautions. It also outlines recommended first-aid procedures to help students respond safely and promptly in the event of an encounter or injury while awaiting professional medical attention.

During the winter season, particularly in December, students should be especially cautious of certain insects, including rove beetles, which may cause skin irritation upon contact. The following poster offers basic guidance on identifying rove beetles, understanding their potential health effects, and taking appropriate preventive measures to avoid direct contact.

FIRST AID FOR ROVE BEETLE EXPOSURE

Rove beetles do NOT bite or sting. Skin irritation occurs when the insect is crushed against the skin, releasing a toxin called pederin that can cause redness, burning, and blister-like lesions.

CAUSE:
Crushing the beetle on the skin releases toxin (pederin) that causes irritation.

1 CLEAN THE AREA IMMEDIATELY

Clean the wound with mild soap and clean water.

Helps remove the toxin and reduces irritation.

2 APPLY A COLD COMPRESS

Apply a cold compress for about 10 minutes at a time to reduce pain and localized swelling.

Relieves pain and helps reduce swelling.

3 AVOID SCRATCHING, RUBBING, OR PICKING

Avoid scratching, rubbing, or picking at the bite area to reduce the risk of secondary infection.

Prevents worsening iritation and infection.

4 MILD SYMPTOMS IMPROVE ON THEIR OWN

If there is only minor redness, the symptoms typically resolve on their own within 2–3 days.

Most mild cases heal within 2–3 days.

5 SEEK MEDICAL ATTENTION IF SYMPTOMS WORSEN

Seek medical attention if you notice any worsening symptoms or signs of infection.

Don't delay if symptoms worsen. Consult a doctor.

PREVENTION TIPS

- Do not crush rove beetles on your skin.
- Gently blow or brush the insect away.
- Close windows or use screens when lights attract insects at night.
- Wash exposed skin promptly if contact occurs.

ABOUT ROVE BEETLES

- Small, fast-moving beetles often found in gardens, fields, and around lights at night.
- They are NOT dangerous but can cause skin irritation if crushed on the skin.

EARLY WASHING IS THE MOST IMPORTANT STEP TO REDUCE SKIN IRRITATION FROM ROVE BEETLE TOXIN EXPOSURE.

In addition, to ensure you have a pleasant stay in Satuk, Buriram. we would like to remind you of the following information:

1. As local food may differ from what you're accustomed to, please try to maintain your regular eating habits and avoid consuming uncooked, cold, unclean, or excessively fried food. To prevent gastrointestinal issues, make sure fruits are thoroughly washed or peeled before eating.

2. Take precautions to avoid slipping, scalding, or other accidents when using restrooms, and be mindful of potential injuries when riding vehicles or participating in events.

3. Prevention of Infectious Diseases:

Influenza Prevention: If you experience symptoms such as a fever above $100.4°F (38°C)$, muscle aches, chills, sweats, headaches, a dry persistent cough, fatigue, weakness, nasal congestion, or a sore throat, please contact us or visit a hospital promptly.

4. Given the school's environment, which is surrounded by agricultural areas and the tropical climate of Thailand, be aware of potentially poisonous insects. If you are bitten, you might experience itchy rashes, but this is generally not life-threatening. You can obtain external medications at the Nursing Building.

Part V
Thailand's Culture and Customs

Thailand: General Information

Thailand, historically known as Siam and officially the Kingdom of Thailand, is a country in Southeast Asia, located at the center of the Indochinese Peninsula, with a population of almost 70 million. The country is bordered by Myanmar and Laos, Cambodia and Malaysia. Bangkok is the nation's capital and largest city. Thailand is a constitutional monarchy. The present king is King Maha Vajiralongkom Bodindradebayavarangkun (King Rama X.) Thai flag has three colors consisting of red (nation), white (religion) and dark blue (monarchy). The majority of Thai people are Buddhists (approx. 94%). The rest are Muslims (approx. 5%, mostly living in the south of Thailand) and Christians (approx. 1%).

Buriram: Tourist Information

1. Phanom Rung Historical Park

Phanom Rung Historical Park is a grand and majestic Khmer temple complex located on top of an extinct volcano, 350 meters above sea level. Over a thousand years old, it was originally built as a Hindu religious site before becoming a Buddhist site. One of its most famous features is the reclining Vishnu lintel, known in Thai as Thap Lang Narai Banthomsin.

Another remarkable feature is its carefully aligned architecture, which allows the rising or setting sun to shine through all 15 doorways on specific days each year.

2. Prasat Hin Mueang Tam

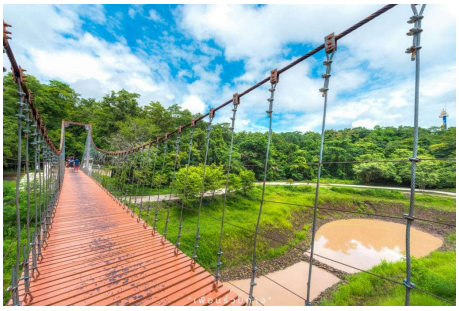

Situated in Prakhon Chai, it is one of the Khmer sanctuaries with the most outstanding architecture in Buri Ram. The architecture features the Baphuon style of Khmer art which dates between 1007 – 1082 and mixed with the Kleang style which dates between 965 - 1012. The building comprises five brick prangs built on the same laterite base. All of them were built in two rows: three prangs in the front and two at the back. The principal tower in the middle of the front row is the biggest one.

3. Khaokradong Volcano Forest Park

Khaokradong Volcano Forest Park is a forest park formed on an extinct volcano, with the Suphatthara Bophit Buddha image near the summit. Established as a forest park in 1983 and managed by Thailand's Department of National Parks, the site preserves wooded slopes and a volcanic crater, and the elevated site provides views across Buriram and the surrounding countryside. Visitors commonly go to the hilltop shrine for photography and panoramic views, and the park lies a short distance from Buriram city.

4. Huai Talat Reservoir and Buri Ram Bird Park

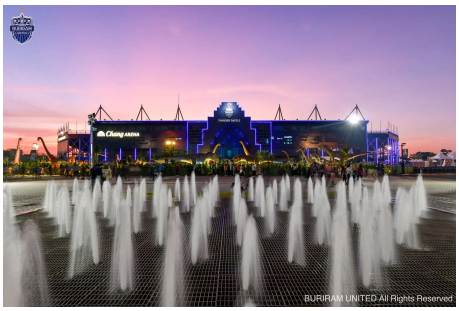

Huai Talat Reservoir and Buri Ram Bird Park is located in Tambon Sakae Sam, it was proclaimed a non-hunting area in 1992. A survey found out that there are more than 100 kinds of birds living in this area, especially in the dry season from November to April. There will be large flocks of birds living here, some are rare species and nearly become extinct; such as, knob-billed duck, white-winged wood duck, and painted stork. The place is perfect for watching birds. Every day in the evening from 5.00-6.00 p.m. there will be thousands of egrets flying back home, forming an impressive sight.

5. Chang Arena Stadium

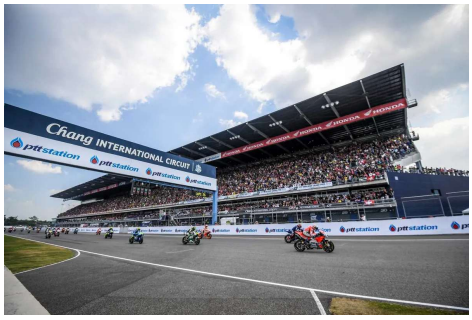

Chang Arena Stadium is the world standard stadium of the “Buriram United” Football Club. It is famous for its beauty and Thailand’s first “football stadium”, having standards and being recognized by the Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) and the Asian Football Confederation (AFC). The Stadium was officially used in 2012. Presently, it has a seating capacity of 32,600 with facilities plus a modern security system. The area around the Stadium is landscaped as a large public park for the general public to relax and exercise.

6. Chang International Circuit

Chang International Circuit is Thailand’s premier motor-racing track, located on the southern edge of Buriram town beside Chang Arena football stadium. Designed by Hermann Tilke and opened in October 2014, the circuit is 4.554 kilometers long with 12 turns. It is the first circuit in Thailand to receive both FIA Grade 1 and FIM Grade A certifications, the highest international standards for car and motorcycle racing.

The circuit’s main event is the MotoGP Thailand Grand Prix, which has been held there since 2018. It has also hosted several international competitions, including the Asia Road Racing Championship, Super GT, World Superbike, and World Touring Car Championship with grandstands and spectator areas accommodating around 100,000 people.

Currency

Coins:

The typical coins circulated in Thailand include 1 THB (silver), 2 THB (available in two types: silver and gold), 5 THB (silver), and 10 THB (gold with a silver outer ring).

Banknotes:

The commonly used banknotes in Thailand consist of 20 THB (green), 50 THB (blue), 100 THB (red), 500 THB (purple), and 1000 THB (grey).

Internet Connection

Since Free Wi-Fi is accessible throughout the school campus, there's no need to purchase an additional internet package. However, if you require internet access for personal use, you have the option to purchase a Thai SIM card, which is readily available at convenience stores and service outlets of network providers such as AIS and True/DTAC.

For your convenience, we highly recommend obtaining a Thai SIM card from any of the three network provider outlets located on the 2nd floor of Suvarnabhumi International Airport (right after passing customs and the exit) or on the 2nd floor of Don Mueang International Airport (within the passage between Terminal 1 and Terminal 2). Each provider offers various packages to suit different needs.

If you need to make calls, ensure you've activated roaming service with your home network provider, or alternatively, you can make international calls using your Thai SIM card. Thailand's country code is +66, and Japan's country code is +81. Since there are diverse SIM card packages available, please inquire for additional details at your network provider's outlets.

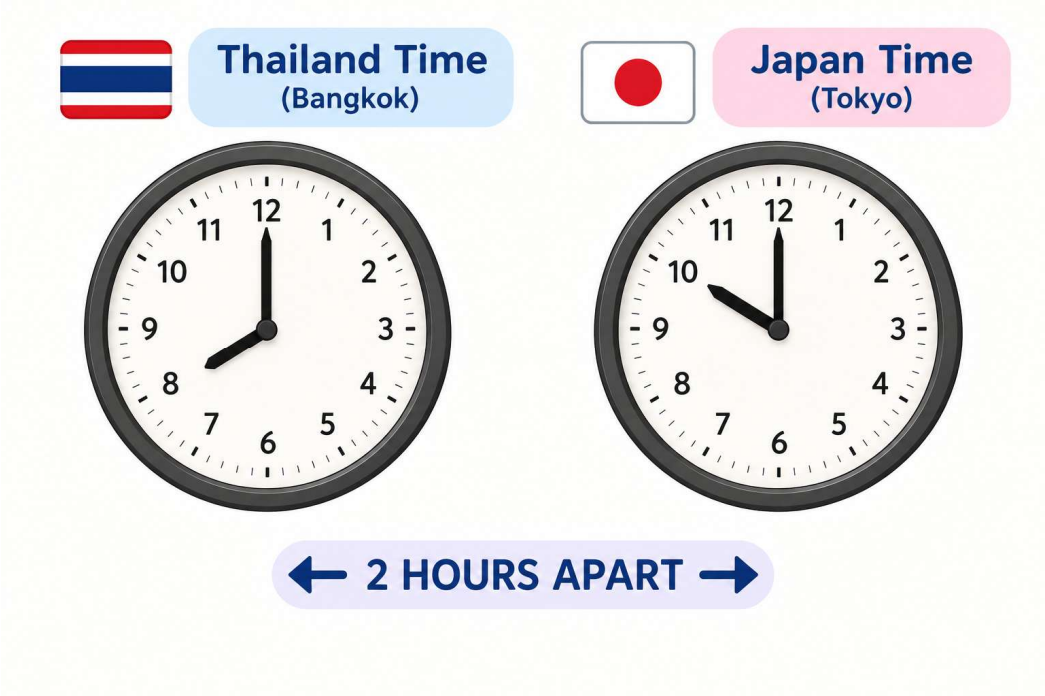

Electricity

Thailand operates on a voltage of 220 volts and a frequency of 50 cycles per second. Since Japan has a different voltage system, it's advisable not to use your 110-volt appliances in Thailand to avoid potential damage. However, if your appliances are labeled with "100-240 volts," they are compatible with Thailand's voltage. Additionally, the sockets in Thailand match the standard, so you won't need a plug adapter.

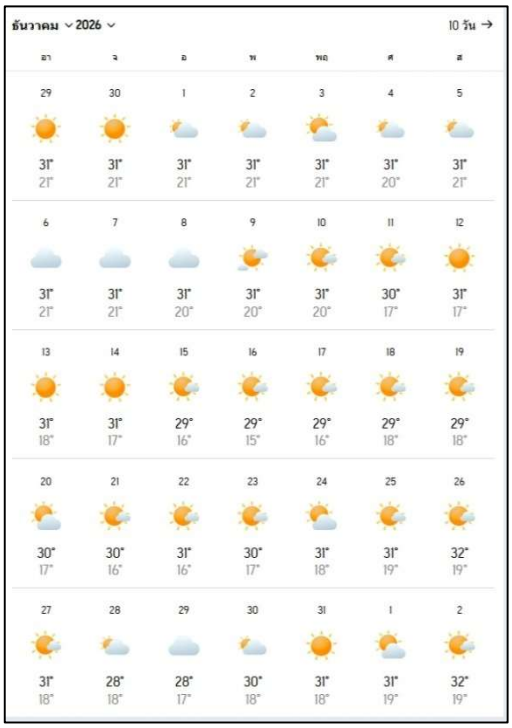

Time Difference

The time in Thailand is seven hours earlier than Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+7) while Japan's time is nine hours earlier than Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+9). It means that Thailand is two hours behind Japan.

Climate

The weather in Buriram during this period is generally warm and pleasant, with mostly sunny skies and partly cloudy conditions. Daytime temperatures range from approximately 28°C to 32°C, while nighttime temperatures range from 15°C to 21°C. Mornings and evenings are relatively cool. During December 19–24, Buriram is expected to experience warm and mostly sunny weather, with daytime temperatures ranging from approximately 29°C to 31°C and nighttime temperatures around 16°C to 18°C.

Participants are advised to wear lightweight, breathable clothing during the day and bring a light jacket or sweater for cooler mornings, evenings, or indoor air-conditioned areas. Please ensure that you dress appropriately and respectfully during the event.
